1972 EDITION OF
THE MAROON AND WHITE

ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY
LAREDO, TEXAS

THEME

o Winter, Winter to Spring, Spring into Summer,
to Fall - So roll the changing years and so we change;
swift, we know not we move."

D. M. Crail - THE IMMUTABLE

this year's theme, the SJA Staff did not picture the
the front and back fly paper; instead a group of "tiny represents the Senior Class as they grow into full Joseph's graduates. Thus, like Rod Stewart published album, "Every Picture Tells a Story."

So have we worked on our book and theme: GROWING
WITH SJA - EVERY PICTURE TELLS A STORY.

Browse through it; here you will find "Reason to Believe"
why "Maggie May" once said, "That's All Right Mama"
for "Tomorrow is Such a Long Time," "At Least Seems Like a Long Time" that when I'll hear "Mandoline Wind"
"I Know I'm Losing You."

Dedication

Brother William Vessels, remember you once said, "This is one class that I have to see graduate?" Well, although you couldn't show up at our graduation because of your missionary work with the Indians, we felt your presence ever present in our hearts; and knew that in spirit and prayer
you were with us. And so it is, because of your inspiration, your hard work and Christian example that we grew in mind and

Brother William, THIS is yours; vicariously enjoy our senior year
at Joseph's for it was a truly tremendous year.

Sincerely yours,
Senior Class of 1972

ns have come true, one at a time." For Mrs. "dream" is just that; because there hasn't been a ed in one: For her, all is the reality of today. Her Joseph Academy began in 1958 when Hector, her an school and slowed down after the 1972 Seniors ar-b-que.

a teacher so concerned with education that she ots in 1958 and has "graduated" on an average of er year. A teacher who unselfishly dedicated her- nds for St. Joseph's needs. Now a brave, ambitious mother who toured Europe this summer of 1972.

angel, thank you for all you've done; we need more

Sincerely
Senior Class of 1972

YOU MRS. AGNES O. NOTZON

Brother William Vessels saunters in, drops some secretarial work on Mrs. Notzon's desk, figuratively dusts his hands and says, "Well, that takes care of that."

This was a typical day in Mrs. Notzon's life when she worked part-time at St. Joseph's Academy in 1966; but when Rodney, her son, graduated, Brother William placed her on a full-time basis; thus her secretarial work became full-time.

Now, Mrs. Notzon is in her sixth year of gratuitously helping the school. Since, she has become a trackster, running in search of different teachers, oftentimes assumed the responsibility of decision maker when either administrator was in class. She has been a comforting shoulder to most teachers who behind her back praise her excellent choice of wardrobe, and thank her for her work with an occasional flower. She has been a nurse to many an ailing student.

As if work at school weren't enough, she also serves in the school's Advisory Board; and above all, has sacrificed her private time as wife and mother toward helping St. Joseph's Academy become a better school.

History has recorded only one indispensable man: Adam; St. Joseph's Academy has living record of the only indispensable Lady: Mrs. Agnes O. Notzon.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Senior Class of 1972

Dawn is born!
Night is past
Warmth radiates
as maturity makes its mark.

Men are emerging
slowly
carefully
often stumbling
yet
always certainly emerging
changing, becoming, creating
putting to death
chaos.

Behold, these men, going forth, reaching out, embracing life. Tempered in years like white hot steel piercing the dark and chaos with a warm glow, bursting forth strengthened to bear the weight of chaos and emptiness - wisdom to seek its end.

A DAY

I remember the days
I thought I loved you; then
there was a time you almost me.
Would you?

"Had I been free."

I remember the days I thought I loved you. True
the days were; but, had I known
the sorrows these would bring
would I?
"Yes, because you're special Being."

I remember the days I thought I loved you.
You learned much; but oh,
how your youth was spent; and
on a college day an experience bent
your love of Man; - then
I was sent.

I remember the days I
LOVED you;
How we grew in mind;
going together to places and fiestas,
how we mingled in crowds - happy people,
how we "Latined" to the beat of "Flores"
how we sat beneath the same steeple.

I remember the days it took to realize it was just a

Day i Love You - TODAY.

Load them in an electric dishwasher and away you go. Want convenience? Get a load of little things... like an electric toothbrush, coffemaker, hair curlers, power saw. Then cool it... with electric air conditioning. The hidden asset behind them all is low cost, dependable electricity... Go Power.
